WEATHER SYNOPSIS AND FORECAST

Hot weather has prevailed in Atlantic for three days past, during the middle portion of the day, but as the nights have been cool the weather has averaged no warmer than is usual at this time of year. For instance, the temperature yesterday afternoon registered 72.

down to as low as 62 degrees. The average for each of the twenty-four hours of yesterday, 74 degrees, was only one degree warmer than a like average taken for the same, identical day, which was deduced from the records of many years past. This it is found by actual computation though for the middle of the century.

Warm weather was reported yesterday like on Monday, over nearly the whole country. In the far northwestern states it continues very hot. A maximum temperature of 96 degrees at Kansas City was the highest temperature reported in the whole country. The only portion of the country where there was anything like being cool was around the Great Lakes.

It was but the day before, Monday, that the temperature there was away up to 90 degrees.

Little rain fell in the United States yesterday. Only light local showers were reported in the coast districts of Texas and Louisiana.

For Georgia today: Generally fair; continued warm weather.

IN THE CITY HALL.

Atlanta Can Get All the Money She Wants at a Cheap Rate of Interest.

VALUE OF TAXABLE PROPERTY GROWING

There Will Be a Barbecue at Cap Joyner's Farm Today, Which Will Be Attended by the Mayor and Council.

The tax assessor's office is now the busiest place about the city hall. The three assessors and the two clerks are busy checking up the work and preparing the report which will be submitted to the general council as soon as it can be completed.

The assessors have been in the field for a long time, and have fixed the value of many places of Atlanta's real estate, and a great deal of property, and yet their work is not done by long odds. The work, however, shows that Atlanta is a richer city today than she has ever been, and that next year the amount of taxable property will be larger than ever before. In the history of the city, the work of the assessors has been diligent, and many new houses have been found, increasing the valuation of the city's property.

"The work," said Assessor Keith yesterday, "has been harder than ever before. We have had more territory to cover than we have ever had, but in doing it we have found more taxable property. I mean by that the people of Atlanta have been building since we were out last, and the new houses have taken us by surprise. We never thought of in years gone by. Of course, the more new buildings were found the greater is the amount of taxable property. I can give no idea of what the values will be this year, because we are not near through checking up, but I am sure this Atlanta will have a larger return this year than ever before. The people have been building houses, notwithstanding the hard times. The more we tramp over the city hunting for realty and personally, the more we are all satisfied that Atlanta has been moving right along while others were talking about the hard times. The office work is slow, because we haven't the help we need, but we will be up and at our report as soon as we can."

A Day of Pleasure.

The mayor and the members of the general council will leave the union depot this afternoon on a pleasure trip. They are going up to Cap Joyner's farm, where they will have an old-time barbecue. Cap Joyner being giving these barbecues about five years ago, and they have been one of the greatest sources of pleasure to the members of the general council and those invited along imaginable. Every year Cap gives one, and it is regarded as the finest of the country, and when it is over those who come away long for the next one.

No Trouble About the Money.

Atlanta has maintained her credit, even when that of some of the biggest cities in the north went by.

And yesterday Atlanta was offered all the money she could use. Mr. Stockell, chairman of the finance committee, yesterday, "from New York offering me all the money Atlanta wanted at 6 per cent. A few days ago I got a telegram of the same nature, and today a letter came confirming the offer. In the letter the party said that he had many times visited the town which had always met their obligations before had failed to come up. He said that Atlanta was the only city in the entire country which had come to time. While some of the wealthiest cities failed to meet their July interest, Atlanta was on hand with the money when the interest was due. The writer of the letter is more than anxious to place some money with Atlanta, but, just at present, we need no money."

Paying Up Like Men.

Tax Collector Bob Collins is not at all lonely.

"Forty of money is coming in every day to keep him company and to make him happy."

When the time for the discount being abolished came about it was quite long for a day or two, but then the people began realizing that it would be better for them to pay the money than to see the property had been advertised and then pay to the bill with the accrued cost. This started them responding quite liberally. During yesterday over $5,000 was paid into the collector's hands, and he is of the opinion that he will receive a larger amount than that today.

The West End Annexation.

The Atlanta committee on the annexation of West End will likely meet tomorrow. So far, the committee has had no official communication from the mayor and council of West End relative to their action on the matter. But as soon as the communication is received, Mr. Meador will call a meeting of his committee and hear what the West Enders have to say. The indications are that an agreement will be made which will be satisfactory to both sides.

PROFESSOR E. E. WEST ELECTED.

He Takes the Place of Professor W. A. Noyes as Teacher of the Boys' High School.

There was a special meeting of the board of education in the Girls' High school building yesterday afternoon.

The object of the meeting was to consider the question of vacating and to choose a successor for Professor W. A. Noyes, resigned as one of the teachers in the Boys' High school.

Professor E. E. West, formerly of the Technological school, was elected to the position. Professor West is a competent instructor and has a large following of pupils. He will enter upon the discharge of his duties without delay. Professor Noyes is at present temporarily filling that position.

The vacancies in the colored schools were referred to the committee on teachers with power to act.

Quite a number of tickets were issued to applicants yesterday for the business school, which has followed the opening of the school.

The Boys Must Be Poor Players.

Washington, Ga., September 5.—(Special.)—The change in the baseball team played the Washington club here yesterday and the score was seven to six in favor of the visitors.

Castoria is truly a marvelous thing for children. Doctors prescribe it, medicinal journals recommend it, and more than a million mothers are using it in place of purgatives, cathartics, and other harsh remedies. Castoria is the thing to regulate the stomach and bowels, and it is pleasant to the taste and absolutely harmless. It relieves constipation, cures colic, cures diarrhea and wind colic, cures flatulency, cures worms, and prevents convulsions, soothes the child, and gives it refreshing and natural sleep. Castoria is the children's panacea—the mother's friend.

Castoria is put up in one-size bottles only. It is not sold in bulk. Don't allow any one to sell you anything else on the plan or promise that it is "just as good" and "will answer every purpose."

RESULTS OF THE RAIN

How It Has Affected the Crops Throughout the Country.

MANY OF THEM HAVE BEEN IMPROVED

While Others Have Been Slightly Damaged—The Weather Report Comes Officially from the Bureau.

Copious rains during the past week over much of the northwest section of Georgia have been very beneficial to crops. There is quite a number of localities, however, in the section that have had very little rain in the past three or four days, and consequent injury to cotton and other crops has been considerable. The continuation of warm weather throughout the entire week is causing cotton to open rapidly. In very dry places it may be said to be opening prematurely. Unmatured corn, turnips, tobacco and gardens are also much dried up in some places for the lack of moisture.

Excessive rain, drought and high winds during the season have caused a decidedly poor condition of cotton in the northern counties, although it is now maturing rapidly and picking is in progress. Planters all agree that there will be a decided shortage in the yield. Farmers are still busy in many localities stripping and storing their cotton. Sweet potatoes are generally growing rapidly, but there have not been as many planted as in past years. Irish potatoes are growing nicely and garden truck is generally flourishing, with prospects of a large crop.

Throughout the northeastern section peas, potatoes and turnips are in good condition and it is expected by all farmers that good yields will be realized. Considerable damage was done throughout the section on the 27th to cotton and young corn, but good weather since has restored them somewhat. Cotton is slowly opening. The prospect is not as bright as it was two weeks ago.

In western Georgia the weather conditions of the past week have been generally favorable to the maturing of cotton, late planted corn, etc. Warm weather is causing the cotton to open rapidly and picking has already commenced. Cotton appears to be considerably short of a full crop, owing to the more or less prevalence of rust all along from very early in the season and besides the ravages of the boll worm have worked much damage. Corn is about all matured. A fair crop of fodder has been saved. Peas, potatoes and corn are generally doing very well. Turnips in many places are suffering from the lack of moisture.

From the central counties are received many complaints of the poor condition of corn by the winds, drought, and rust during July and August. Picking is being pushed forward as rapidly as the season permits. Some of the corn on the ground is not worth picking up, while a portion on the stalk has turned blue. Turnips are good, but Irish potatoes are scarce, as not many were planted.

The effects of the hurricane of last week, which passed up the coast on the 27th, were felt by the farmers throughout the eastern section of the state, the greatest amount of damage was done to corn and cotton, which were blown to the ground and from a quarter to a third of both crops will be destroyed by rot. What cotton was saved was blown down in many places the seed is sprouting in the boll. Peas and sugar cane were also injured on the coast. The weather conditions in the south are generally good. Young corn is in promising condition up to the time of the storm, but now much is destroyed.

The gentle but scattered showers that fell in southwest Georgia during the past week greatly improved all growing crops. Copious showers fell on a few farms and were injurious to the opening cotton, causing the bolls to rot. There have been a few complaints of caterpillars and boll worms. Gardens throughout the section seem to be in a good condition. Rice is in fine condition.

The weather conditions in the southern section have generally been quite favorable for the growth of crops. Cotton is in poor condition, owing to the unfavorable weather of past weeks. It has opened prematurely. Sugar cane and potatoes are growing nicely and a large crop of each is assured. Gardens are generally in a flourishing condition, but a little more moisture would probably be beneficial.

This week's report is more full as to the damage done by the hurricane of the 27th of August in the southeast portion of the state. The conditions on the coast suffered the most. In these counties, Bryan and Chatham particularly, the hurricane fury of the winds almost completely ruined crops besides blowing down fruit trees, etc. Cotton and tide-water rice in many places are almost a total loss. Irish potatoes and sweet potatoes, corn, peas and everything else growing have all been damaged irreparably. Away from the coast the damage from wind and rain was much less. Rainy weather continued during much of the past week and crops of all kinds have hardly had any chance to recover from the violence of the hurricane.

Special Report on Corn.

The reports on corn have been rather conflicting for the past few weeks and as the major part of the crop has now matured, special reports were requested as to the probable yield of the crop as compared with that of last year. From these it appears that the early and late crops have suffered about equally from adverse weather conditions, the drought of July damaging the early crop while the dry spell in August injured the late. The yield will be best in the northeast section and nearly as good in the southwest. In these sections the heavy crop of last year will be exceeded by 5 to 10 per cent. The lowest yield will be in the eastern counties, which were swept by the recent hurricane. Here the damage was done on late corn, from which the fodder had not been cut. In this section the crop will be 15 per cent below last year's. Next poorest in yield is in the northwest section, where the droughts have been most severe. The other sections of the state show moderate falling off from last year's returns.

Taking the entire state into consideration it is safe to say that the crop will fall short of last year's by 5 to 6 per cent. This will be a good crop and little western corn need be used this year. The quality of the grain is not the best, especially in early corn, as many ears are only partially filled and there are some rotten ones.

PARK MORRILL, Local Forecast Officer.

ONE-FOURTH OFF.

North Carolina Farmers Lost Heavily by the Great Hurricane.

Raleigh, N. C., September 5.—The forecast of the crop returns of the North Carolina agricultural department for September shows a depreciation of prospects of 25 per cent from the August report. This is caused by the fearful cyclone that passed over the state last week. The damage done by severe wind and floods. Tobacco suffered more than any other crop. Corn and cotton also were greatly damaged. The section beyond the Blue Ridge mountains suffered very little, while the Piedmont section was the greatest loser. The prospects in some sections are deplorable.

HOW WE DO GROW.

The Annual Statement of Postmaster Lewis Is Now Ready.

A LARGE INCREASE OVER LAST YEAR

Showing That the City Has Moved Steadily Forward—Receipts and Expenditures for the Year—Other Items.

There are many ways of ascertaining the growth of Atlanta beside the official count of her population.

One of these, and perhaps the best, is furnished by the annual report, which comes from the postoffice. This report is an indication of the letter writing, and the number of letters written bears a certain ratio to the growth and advancement of the city.

The annual statement for the year ending June 30th has just been issued from the press and the figures will no doubt be of interest.

The total receipts of the office, including the sale of stamps, stamped envelopes and papers, and from the several boxes, fairs up the sum of $207,527.94.

This is an excellent showing, compared with the statements of preceding years. For the year ending June, 1892, the revenue from the same office was $194,801. The preceding year it was $181,564 and for 1890 it was $159,202.

The increase in the revenue of the office for the past year has been over $12,000.

Other indications may be inaccurate, but the above figures are carefully revised and represent actual cash that has passed into the coffers of the government. They represent a marked increase in the patronage of the office which could arise from no other cause but an increase in the city's population, as the rate of postage for the two years has been identical.

Cost of the Service.

The cost of living at the postoffice has correspondingly increased and this is due, of course, to the growth of the city, necessitating longer routes and new mail carriers.

The expenditures arising from this source during the past year amounted to $87,726.94. For the year before it was $84,330.33, showing an increase in the expenditures amounting to nearly $4,000.

The number of clerks employed in the mail service at the postoffice, compared with the present time is 100.

This is quite an increase over the year preceding and is an indication of the increase that will be required for the coming year.

There is a decrease for the year in the number of advertising letters, but the report shows a corresponding decrease for several years which shows that the country is becoming more expert in penmanship and in the care that is taken in the directing of letters.

The number of money orders received at the postoffice last year aggregate the sum of $1,047,079.56.

Special delivery letters have been growing in popular favor. The number delivered during the year was 5,600, against a much smaller number for the year preceding. There were 9,673 delivery stamps sold.

Postmaster Lewis and his able assistants deserve to be congratulated on the foregoing statement. The affairs of the office during the year have been well managed, and all visitors to the office have been treated with deferential courtesy.

The clerks in the district attorney's office are getting ready for the business of the fall.

A number of witnesses have been notified to appear before the grand jury next month, and a number of indictments will be ready for the court when it meets for the fall term.

Judge Newman is in the city and will be in chambers until the end of the week.

District Attorney Newman has been down to Douglasville yesterday. He will set the day for trying Lewis Redwine as soon as he returns to the city.

The departments were all quiet yesterday, and no business of any great importance was transacted.

OPENED IN GREAT SHAPE.

The Eads-Neel Company Is Now Ready for a Shopping.

The clothing store of Eads-Neel Company opened their business last Monday night under most auspicious circumstances.

The surroundings were certainly in keeping with the affair. The store, which is formerly occupied by Anderson, the clothier, has been enlarged and improved upon for the better.

Two hundred and fifty electric lights helped to make the occasion a brilliant one. The house was decorated with beautiful flowers and music was furnished by the thousands of people that attended the first day of the new firm.

Every bit of clothing in the house is entirely new and of the best make and latest pattern. This firm makes a specialty of its children's department. The children's department is entirely separate from that containing the men's clothing. It is fitted up with the latest styles and is a place where ladies can rest and there will be carried out a new line of parlor. There will be paper and ink for the writing of letters and there will also be a delightful little toilet attached.

The members of the firm of the Eads-Neel Company are all young men and the new clothing house in Atlanta is but a March day. Mr. Eads, the head of the firm, is one of the best known and stanchest citizens of the Central City. His record as a business man is one that many might envy. Mr. Neel is also a business man of no small reputation.

Their enterprise cannot be too highly commended. The opening of their store here has given a new impetus to business. All success to the Eads-Neel Company!

HERE IS THE PROGRAMME IN FULL

Tomorrow Night the People of Atlanta Can Contribute to the Aid of Their Stricken Brethren and Enjoy Themselves.

Everybody in Atlanta should contribute what he or she can toward alleviating the suffering of the people of Brunswick. There is suffering there—suffering actual and very real, and Atlanta has done very little as yet in the way of help. The stories from the little city by the sea tell of immediate need, and surely Atlanta will do her part, though she may have been a little behind hand in getting started.

Tomorrow night the people will be given an opportunity to contribute to the fund for the relief of the people of Brunswick, and that opportunity will be in every respect a pleasant one. At DeGives opera house the concert will be arranged by Mr. O'Donnell will occur. Some of the most prominent musicians of the city have volunteered their services and a programme which promises a most delightful evening has been arranged. The audience is tender their services. Mr. DeGives has contributed the opera house and the people should do the rest.

The programme assures a performance of the highest order of merit, and every lover of music will be more than repaid in attending. Tickets are on sale at Miller's today. Get a ticket whether you can attend or not.

The admission is 50 cents; no extra charge for reserved seats.

The programme is as follows:

First Part.

Entrance—"Pique Dame," Soppe—Warm's orchestra.

Viola Solo—Fifth Air Varien, deDeriot—Mr. A. J. Wurm.

Baritone Solo—"Thou Art Mine All," Bradley—Mr. Samuel Burkbank.

PUSHING IT THROUGH.

The Pioneer Society Is Going to Celebrate the Semi-Centennial Sure.

The committee of five from the committee of fifteen of the Pioneer Society met yesterday in the office of Ordinary Calhoun.

More work was put in on the programme and it was decided to appoint a committee to three committees; a committee on arrangements, a committee on invitation and a third committee on speakers. The meeting yesterday and interest is gradually increasing.

Every citizen in Atlanta should take a pride in the celebration of Atlanta's semi-centennial and make it a success in every way.

Are you weak and weary, overworked and tired? Hark! Hark! Hark! Just the medicine you need to purify and quicken your blood and to give you appetite and strength. 100 doses $1.

MEETING OF THE LIBRARY BOARD.

It Met for the First Time Yesterday Afternoon in the New Building.

The first meeting of the library board in the new building was held yesterday afternoon.

A full number was present and several important measures were discussed. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mr. C. A. Eads.

Other matters discussed were the holding of a general reception for the entertainment of the members and friends of the association. It will be a delightful occasion and will serve to show that the library is sure at home in its new location.

Dyspepsia in its worst forms will yield to the use of Carter's Little Nerve Pills, aided by Carter's Little Liver Pills. They will relieve present distress but strengthen the stomach and digestive apparatus.

They Explain Their Position and Leave the Public to Decide

Whether They Are Right or Wrong.

This has been rightly called the age of progress. We accomplish more in the same length of time than at any time in the past, because of the wise division of our occupations. Most does not engage in the same kind of employment as he used to, but accomplishes more, because his energies are concentrated in one direction. He realizes the fact that he must now content himself with playing one part in the great drama of life.

The lawyer, doctor and merchant is no longer one and the same person, and those who have made themselves famous during the last decade have sought to excel in but one direction.

The legal profession has grown to such immense proportions that one special branch is more than sufficient to occupy one mind.

The corporation lawyer, the patent lawyer, and the doctor, each finds in his specialty a more profitable field than he can master and the dentist finds in his practice that challenge of skill and his research is wider than that formerly occupied by the doctor that was supposed to know all about the human system and pulled teeth merely as a pastime.

In no other profession has close attention to one particular branch brought such satisfactory results as in the practice of medicine. A hundred different minds are now at work in as many channels of research and the results are most satisfactory. Diseases that were considered incurable only a short time ago, are now successfully treated by new and improved methods, and the most wonderful cures have been effected by the specialists. Obligations to all else but the disease he treats he is successful because he concentrates his whole energy in one particular direction. This accounts for the remarkable cures that Dr. Hathaway & Co. are effecting in their line of specialties, which embrace the following diseases: syphilis, stricture, hydrocele, dislocated or unnatural discharges, impotency, lost manhood, nervous debility, night losses, eczema, moles, birth marks, pimples, ulcers, piles, catarrhs of diseases of women.

Dr. Hathaway & Co.'s methods are new and they are the most successful.

Persons suffering from any of the above diseases are falling to consult them and throw away their brightest chance. Consultations are free and charges for treatment are very reasonable.

Our course of treatment by mail has proved very successful. Send for symptom book, cure for men, No. 1, for women, No. 2, for skin diseases. If you cannot call, Dr. Hathaway & Co. will address them at 22 1/2 South Broad Street, Atlanta, Ga. Rooms 24, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100.

JUDICIAL HUMOR.

Judge Calhoun Plays a Lively Game with Attorney Jordan.

MATCHED HIM IN A WARM CONTEST,

In Which the Winner Was the Man Who Was the Most Stubborn—Saloonist Sprayberry Heavily Fined.

A spirited case, which resolved itself into a contest of stubbornness, the recorder trying to match the attorney in point of obstinacy, amused the spectators in police court yesterday afternoon.

Mr. J. C. Sprayberry, a Decatur street saloonist, has frequently been before the courts in one way or another to answer to an allegation of illegal management on this part. For several months he has been on the list of saloonists to whom minor licenses were refused by the council on account of their having been previously found guilty of some violation of the whisky regulations.

In some way Mr. Sprayberry got a license from the council in July last and began, as it is alleged, the sale of whisky at 131 Decatur street. The police department took notice of this, and, after investigating the matter, Sergeant Slaughter yesterday made a case against Sprayberry, and the case was tried in police court yesterday afternoon.

Attorney Robert Jordan represented the defendant, and he fought the case from the start. He fired into the witnesses and gained his points. It became necessary at one point of the trial to have the evidence before the court that a license had been issued to Mr. Sprayberry, and to establish this fact Judge Calhoun gave directions that Deputy Clerk Charles Rice be at once sent for, and after an officer had gone for Mr. Rice, the judge proceeded with other cases.

Attorney Jordan protested against proceeding with another case. He urged that this was a quasi criminal prosecution, and there was no rule of law known to any court by which a criminal case could be adjudged over and another case taken up. The judge started to proceed, over-ruling this point, but he reconsidered the matter and began a long wait for Mr.
Rice.

An hour passed and the judge was restless, but Mr. Jordan would not relinquish his ground; he stood firm. When Mr.
Rice came in it was an easy matter to establish the fact that a license had been issued to Mr. Sprayberry in the regular way, and, as a certificate of his having been found guilty in a higher court of selling whisky to a drunk man was produced, and as Sergeant Slaughter testified to Mr. Sprayberry having sold whisky on Saturday last and at other times, the court gave the defendant $100 and costs.

"Then let me have that certificate as evidence," said Mr. Jordan.

"No, sir," said Judge Calhoun, "it belong to the city, and you can't get it."

"Oh, no," said the attorney, "I'm not going to destroy anything. Let me suggest that your honor is apparently filling the dual place of judge and solicitor. I insist that it is your place to judge of this case as if you had no personal feeling in it."

"I am doing that," returned the judge.
"I have not seen Mr. Sprayberry for six months, but I am here to protect the city's interests, and I am going to do it."

"Then," said the attorney, "let the case be decided on the merits, and let the defendant and keep him until a proper bond is given."

"My client is as good as gold," from Mr. Jordan.

"I can be as stubborn as an attorney sometimes," said the judge.

THEY LEFT YESTERDAY.

Five Delegates Will Probably Attend the National Association at Cleveland.

The National Association of Insurance Men meets today in Cleveland, O., and it is very probable that the next annual meeting of that association will be held in Atlanta.

The state association held a meeting on Monday and elected delegates to the national convention. The delegates are as follows: Mr. R. F. Shelden, of the Minneapolis Insurance Company; T. B.
Shepard, of the United States Insurance Company; J. A. Perdue, of the Equitable Insurance Company; J. H. Plant, of Macomber of the New York Life Insurance Company; and Mr. Thomas C. Peters, of the Washington Life Insurance Company.

The insurance agents of the city have already sent a letter ahead to the officers of the association and recommended the election of Mr. Peters as the unanimous choice of the insurance general agents of the city and state. If Atlanta is selected as the place for the next meeting of the association, Mr. Peters will be elected the next president of the association.

The coming of the national association here will be the first thing for Atlanta, as it brings no less than two hundred delegates to the city.

Going to Europe.

One of the delegates from Atlanta is Mr. R. F. Shelden. After attending the convention he will go to Europe, where his company has insisted that he shall go on a vacation of two months for his health at their expense.

STUART'S

Gin and Buchu

A True Kidney Tonic.

No person can be healthy whose kidneys are sluggish and inactive.
The kidneys eliminate strain out of the waste matter of the blood, and pass it from the system with the urine.
In sickness or in health the waste matter of the body is poisonous in character, and unless promptly thrown off by the kidneys, the whole system becomes deranged and diseased, and often uremia appears, followed by coma and death.
STUART'S GIN AND BUCHU is a specific for all kidney, bladder and other urinary troubles.
Thousands have been cured; why not you?
